"Wolfhounds at Home in Their Native Ireland"

INTRODUCTION

In appreciation of the many wonderful wolfhounds that have provided a solid foundation for our breed, the IWCA (through this committee) has put together a Pictorial Gallery of what the committee considered to be great examples of Irish Wolfhounds for the past 120 years. These hounds exemplify the characteristics that typify our breed. A review of this pictorial should be a positive educational experience for both the seasoned IW person and newcomers to the breed.

Following tradition, the Committee decided not to identify the modern dogs from 1970 forward. They are all good specimens of the breed and we hope that everyone will appreciate them.
